

Accessing Full Text Journal Articles

- Start at <http://www.evidence.nhs.uk/nhs-evidence-content/journals-and-databases>
- Click on Journals
- Click on Athens Login
- Put in your Athens username and password
- If you do not have an NHS Athens account, you can register for one at <http://www.evidence.nhs.uk/nhs-evidence-content/journals-and-databases>

Once logged in, you will see a screen similar to this:

The screenshot shows the 'Journals and databases' page on the NHS Evidence website. At the top, there are navigation links for 'About Us | Help' and 'Register for NHS Athens | Athens Login'. The main heading is 'Journals and databases' with the NHS Evidence logo. Below this, there is a breadcrumb trail: 'Home > NHS Evidence Content > Journals And Databases > My Journals'. On the left side, there is a section titled 'Why register for NHS Athens?' with a numbered list (1-5) and a 'Discover all the advantages' link. Below that is a 'Register for NHS Athens or Login now' link. Another section is titled 'About E-Journals' with text describing access to full text electronic journals and e-books, and a 'Brief User guide' link. The main content area is titled 'SEARCH MYJOURNALS' and includes radio buttons for search criteria: 'Exact title', 'Start of title', and 'All words in title' (which is selected). There is a search input field and a 'SEARCH' button. Below the search bar, it says 'You are viewing journals holdings available to users from NHS England'. There is a section 'Journals starting with' followed by an alphabetical list of letters from A to Z. At the bottom, there is a 'Citation Look up' section with several input fields: 'Article Title', 'Journal Title', 'ISSN', 'Date' (with dropdown menus for year, month, and day), 'Volume', 'Issue', 'Start Page', and 'End Page'. There are also fields for 'Author Last Name' and 'First Name' at the very bottom.

- You can search for journals by title or browse the A-Z list.
- Use 'all words in title' if you are not sure of full and correct journal title and just search for the words you know.

Citation Look-up

This is a 'work in progress' and will not always take you directly to the article that you need. If you do not know the full reference we suggest that you use the PubMed single citation checker <http://www.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/pubmed/citmatch> and then use MyJournals or search in the Healthcare Databases as if the article is available electronically there will be a link to the full-text.

Browsing the journal title list

The list of journals will look like this
